

Grattan survey: Health or personal reasons interfered with study
LSAY 2006 cohort: Because of health or personal reasons

The course was different to what I wanted
The course turned out to be not what you wanted

Financially it was too hard to keep studying
Financially you couldn't afford to continue

The course didn't interest me
You just lost interest

Too many other commitments (work, family, etc)
You had problems juggling study and work commitments

Too much study to do
Study load was too heavy

The course was too hard
You had been getting poor results

I never really wanted to get a degree
You never really intended to complete the course

